Handfasting

TYING THE KNOT

Follow in the footsteps of ancient Dunollie weddings and get married in a traditional Scottish handfasting ceremony, where you will be 'bound together' in marriage with hand made handfasting ribbons. There are several humanist celebrants and interfaith ministers in Argyll who specialise in handfasting, and can incorporate personal vows as well as Celtic and Gaelic blessings and rituals into your ceremony.

Did you know a handfasting ceremony can also be conducted as a non-legally binding ceremony to celebrate your commitment or engagement to one another?

Eloperments

JUST THE TWO OF YOU

Do you love the idea of a intimate romantic wedding without the responsibility and costs of hosting guests? Then our elopement package might just be the right thing for you.

Did you know that Scotland is the only country in the UK where you can get married anywhere, even in nature? All you need is a registered celebrant and two witnesses.

Whether it will just be the two of you, or you fancy bringing a few close friends, you will find our suggestions for the best local celebrants and luxury picnics on page 16.
